

H-Selection Selectum Galia

Selectum Galia blends antique-style weathered finish with modern FlexiLock installation and klinker durability—perfect for elegant, long-lasting roofing solutions.

Selectum Galia – Aged Character, Modern Performance

Selectum Galia combines the look of weathered charm with klinker strength and FlexiLock ease, making it the perfect choice for vintage-inspired roofs that demand durability and visual richness.

H-Selection Selectum Galia Roof Tile from STIPL Roofz is a masterful blend of antique aesthetic and advanced tile technology. With its weathered, multi-toned finish, Galia evokes the rustic charm of old-world European roofs while delivering modern-day durability and efficiency.

Manufactured using klinker ceramic, these tiles are fired at high temperatures for extreme hardness, minimal porosity, and color permanence. The natural tones and gradients of the Galia finish bring texture, depth, and authenticity to any roof, making it a favorite for restorations, villas, and architecturally rich homes.

The innovative FlexiLock system ensures quick and secure installation, reducing alignment issues and labor costs. With 11 to 14 tiles per square meter, it offers flexibility in design and coverage without compromising strength.
